In the ever evolving world of academic research, the tools and techniques of conducting meaningful research is swiftly changing. To ensure being in a competitive position, it is imperative to the academicians to keep themselves updated with the latest trends in academic writing. A work published in a reputed journal, book, series does not only boost the profile of academician but also allows him or her to use the knowledge in guiding the students effectively. The FDP is proposed with an intention to equip the participants with modern academic skills which can help the beginners to strengthen their basics and also the senior faculty members to upgrade themselves in the ocean of academia. The present FDP shall be conducted by eminent resource persons from some of the best institutes of the country who will cover topics such as Case Writing, Systematic Literature Review, Bibliometric Analysis, Meta Analysis and Proposal Writing.
