1. Profile of Shri S Udhaya Sanker

S. Udhaya Sanker is a Deputy Controller of Patents and Designs with the Indian Patent Office, located in Chennai. He is an expert and would deliver a lecture on the significance of intellectual property (IP) topics such as patents, copyrights, trademarks, and designs.

This Faculty Development Programme (FDP) on The Art of Patent Drafting: Writing Effective Specifications and Claims aims to impart in-depth knowledge and practical insights into the process of drafting patent applications. The sessions will cover the fundamentals of patent law, structure of a patent document, techniques for drafting specifications, and strategies for writing clear, concise, and enforceable claims. Participants will gain hands-on exposure to identifying patentable subject matter, distinguishing between different types of claims, and avoiding common drafting pitfalls. By integrating legal principles with technical expertise, this FDP empowers faculty and researchers to convert their innovations into strong intellectual property assets.
